

BIBHB 500 Introduction to the Hebrew Bible

Fall 2020

Professor: Cheryl B. Anderson

Required Book List

Accessed on April 10, 2020

The New Oxford Annotated Bible, Fifth edition (2018), ISBN-13: 978-0190276089, $20.49 with 41% discount at amazon.com

OR

The HarperCollins Study Bible (2006), ISBN-13: 978-0060786854, $21.63 with 46% discount at amazon.com

AND

Wilda C. Gafney, Womanist Midrash: A Reintroduction to the Women of the Torah and the Throne. Louisville: Westminster John Knox, 2017. ISBN: 9780664239039. Price: $28.72 with a 18% discount at amazon.com.

NOTE: Important background information for biblical texts will be based on the following textbook:

Michael D. Coogan and Cynthia Chapman, A Brief Introduction to the Old Testament: The Hebrew Bible in its Context, Fourth Edition (New York: Oxford University Press, 2019).

ISBN-13: 9780190903756. Price: $61.99 at amazon.com with a 7% discount.

Since that information will be provided in class, students are NOT required to purchase this resource. However, students might consider purchasing it because this textbook can be used to clarify information covered in class, it covers some texts not specifically covered in the class that may be the basis for your exegetical research assignment, and it is simply a good resource to have in your library for future use. Nevertheless, this textbook will be on reserve, and students may consult it as needed.