Office Hours: By appointment. Students may schedule times to meet with instructors.

Class Hours: Tuesday, 6:30 pm – 9:30 pm

Location: Hy-flex, Classroom TBD

Course Description:

This course is designed to help students find their individual preaching voice as they develop the abilities and skills necessary for the construction and delivery of effective sermons. The course is aimed at addressing three important elements of effective preaching and includes topics and materials related to (1) preparation of the preacher, (2) development and creation of the sermon manuscript, with particular attention given to the identification of the good news of the text and a discipleship message that is a call to action for the hearers, and (3) effective delivery of the sermon. The content of class sessions may include readings, lectures, video presentations, discussions, individual, group and class exercises, as well as performance training and preaching practice. Students will be required to participate in the evaluation of their sermons and those of their classmates.

Course Outcomes:

As the student fulfills the requirements of this course, the student will learn to...

1. Understand good news as central to the task of preaching.
2. Formulate and communicate good news in varied sermon styles, in varied contexts, and at varied liturgical events.
3. Acquire a working knowledge of varied sermon styles and the unique homiletical characteristics of each.
4. Integrate and hone skills in: critical interpretation of scripture, theological analysis, and pastoral/socio-cultural/congregational interpretation.
5. Embody the sermon in a way that is sensitive and responsive to diversity both locally and globally.
6. Develop an authentic preaching “voice” reflecting a unique combination of particular personality, physical ability, and life experience.
7. Critically engage the preaching of others as well as your own.

Assessment instruments connected to course outcomes (above):

1. In-Class Participation, Sermon Manuscripts
2. In-Class Participation, Sermon Manuscripts
3. Preached Sermons
4. In-Class Participation, Sermon Manuscripts (and Exegesis Projects)
5. Preached Sermons
6. Preached Sermons, In-Class Participation
7. In-Class Participation, Peer Feedback on Preached Sermons

Class Assumptions and Expectations:

1. That all students have read and are familiar with the class syllabus and therefore responsible for meeting all class requirements.
2. That all students will attend all synchronous class sessions on time and will be prepared to participate fully in class activities.
3. That all students will both consult Moodle for class assignments and be attentive to in-class updates of course information so that all assigned material will be read, all assignments will be completed, and sermons preached as scheduled.
4. That all students understand that the content of the course represents a beginning point in the ongoing development and growth of their preaching skills and are committed to their continued growth and development as preachers.
5. That the New Revised Standard Version of the Bible will be used in class and for preaching.
6. That inclusive language will be used for God and human beings in written and oral work.
7. That all students understand and adhere to G-ETS policies on plagiarism. (see Student Handbook).
8. That the schedule and syllabus WILL be modified, and additional material added as the professor considers necessary to the course and the development of students.
9. That there will be no extensions allowed past the end of the term.

Classroom Culture:

- A Culture of Respect: Students are expected to sign-in to the Zoom session or be in the classroom on time and to participate with integrity in all class activities, in order to maintain a culture of respect for all participants in the class. In virtual mode, this means that students will remain muted until called on to speak and allow those speaking to complete their statement without interruption. Likewise, students will monitor the length of their statements so that as many persons as possible may have the opportunity to speak and be heard.
- Commitment to Maintaining Expansive Space: In recognition of diversity in all aspects of human identity all participants in the classroom, both students and instructors are to engage each other – the professors, other instructors, teaching assistants and fellow classmates – as colleagues; to develop and maintain a spirit of collaboration within the classroom; and to receive all material with respect for the author. Participation in group and class activities must take into account the right of every student to be heard equally.
- Moodle: Students are expected to be familiar with the expanded class schedule, weekly readings and class assignments that have been provided on Moodle. Students will be notified in class of additional class readings and assignments as they are posted. Where the two sources of information differ, in-class direction overrides the instructions posted on Moodle.

- Computer Access: Students joining the course digitally are expected to ensure that they have the appropriate hardware and software as well as the internet connectivity to facilitate fully in synchronous class sessions with both audio and video presence. Only in emergency situations will students be allowed to participate in Zoom sessions by phone. In such cases, both video and audio capabilities should be available and utilized.
- Interruptions: During synchronous class sessions, students joining the course digitally are required to locate themselves in areas that facilitate participation without interruption due to outside noise, telephones or other issues. Students in the classroom should mute their cellphones and limit outside interruptions.
- Accommodations: Special accommodations may be honored. Students joining the class digitally are welcome to ask for special accommodation in engaging via Zoom in a manner that takes into consideration their physical wellbeing.

Synchronous Class Sessions:

The content and shape of class sessions will be provided to students prior to the actual class. Sessions will be designed to include one or more of these elements:

1. Reading assignment quizzes may be provided on Moodle for each week's assigned readings with attention to themes particular to that week's course content. Students will respond to these quizzes prior to class each week. Students will be expected to engage the entire reading assignment in responding to the quizzes.
2. Class discussion on the topic for the week's class and are inclusive of the material from the reading assignment. Each student is required to demonstrate their knowledge of the assigned reading.
3. Sermon development involves teaching and praxis related to the development of the sermon manuscript. Students will be instructed in three different structures of sermons. Sermons will be preached to specific congregational contexts.
4. Performance praxis is a critical element in learning how to embody the sermon. This class will provide students with multiple opportunities to develop their performance skills by delivering actual sermons.
5. Feedback will include instructor and peer feedback to assignments in a workshop environment during class sessions.

Class Files

Students will be responsible for viewing class files posted via Moodle. Class files will include video lectures, digital readings, and other assignments.

Class Assignments and Grading:

1. Preparation, attendance and participation: Students are expected to be present and on time in person or in video form for all synchronous class sessions and activities. Late arrival or early departure from class sessions without permission will be considered in evaluating class attendance. Late submissions for class assignments will be considered in evaluating overall class performance. Absence from multiple synchronous class sessions will be taken seriously as it will be considered as non-attendance and students may be required to repeat the class. Participation in class assignments and activities includes individual and group activities. 10%
2. Reading Assignment Quizzes: The reading assignment quizzes demonstrate your preparation to engage the material connected with the topic assigned for the class. 10%
3. Preached Sermons: Three sermons preached according to the specifics provided for each on the syllabus and in class – different texts, sermon styles and congregational contexts will be provided for student selection. Unless otherwise instructed, students are not permitted to provide their own text, sermon style, or context for preaching. The timing of sermons and the grading of each is as follows:
 - Sermon 1 (6 - 8 minutes) – 10%
 - Sermon 2 (8 -10 minutes) – 25%
 - Sermon 3 (10 -12 minutes) – 35%
 - Total for sermons 70%
4. Written Sermon: One funeral sermon and exegesis for a special occasion will be written according to the specifics provided on Moodle and in class – texts and pastoral settings will be provided for student selection. 10%

Manuscript Requirements:

A. For Sermons:

- A written manuscript must be developed and submitted for each sermon preached, along with a homiletical exegesis paper unless otherwise directed. You may preach from the manuscript, the sermon outline, notes, or without any written material, but in all cases, you must know your material sufficiently in order to allow yourself freedom in the pulpit. Given the virtual nature of the class, and the current situation caused by the pandemic, students will be asked to preach and record one sermon that will be reviewed by their classmates. All materials must be submitted electronically to the professors by 10:00 a.m. on the day you preach. For recorded sermons, the class schedule will provide the date and time that sermons are to be uploaded and feedback responses posted.

- Include the following identifying material on the first page of each sermon and exegesis manuscripts:

LTRGY 500 – Preaching and Proclamation –Dr. Andrew Wymer and

Dr. Chelsea Yarborough

Student’s name

Sermon Identifier (1, 2, 3, or 4) including Style of Sermon

Description of preaching context or situation

Complete scripture passage with verse numbers

Sermon Purpose Statement

Good News Statement

Message Statement

- Prepare all sermon manuscripts using only Times New Roman 14 pt., double spaced, with 1-inch margins all around and pages numbered at the bottom right corner. Be aware that each page prepared as outlined represents 2 minutes of preaching time. In the interest of ecology, please do not leave large spaces on pages. Check grammar and punctuation before submitting your work.
- Utilize Microsoft Word for all documents submitted. Microsoft Word is utilized so that instructors can provide feedback in the sermon manuscript. Sermons sent in any other format will not be accepted.
- There are no footnotes in sermons, but acknowledgement of the source must be made for all material quoted or referenced directly or indirectly. In sermons, such citations are included within the sermon manuscript, e.g. As homiletician John Smith says in his book Praxis of Preaching “the every-Sunday preacher is constrained with respect to preparation time because of essential pastoral duties.”
- Students will be allowed one revision of their sermon either prior to preaching or after the sermon is preached. Students will be informed prior to the development of the sermon whether the revision will be permitted before or after the sermon is preached.

B. For Homiletical Exegesis Papers

- Use Times New Roman 12 pt. type double spaced, with at least 1-inch margins all around and respond fully to ALL questions provided on the homiletical exegesis form for both biblical and topical exegesis and include the original questions, as provided on the original, on the exegesis paper.
- All responses must be in sentence form, and short paragraphs are generally expected for the responses to most questions. One-word answers are not acceptable.
- Utilize Microsoft Word for all documents submitted. Microsoft Word is utilized so that instructors can provide feedback in the sermon manuscript. Sermons sent in any other format will not be accepted.

- Footnotes must be provided in the homiletical exegesis paper for all quoted or referenced material as appropriate. Consult Turabian (Chicago manual of Style) for the appropriate format of each footnote depending on the source of the material.
- Please check grammar and punctuation and number all pages on both the sermon manuscript and the homiletical exegesis paper before submitting your work.
- Students will be allowed one revision of their exegesis papers either prior to preaching or after the sermon is preached. Students will be informed prior to the development of the exegesis paper whether the revision will be permitted before or after the sermon is preached.
